VOL 28 | BLOOMSBURG, PA., FRIDAY, JUNE 9, 1893. | NO 24

Normal School Notes.

Contractor Long of Wilkes-Barre, was "on the hill" Monday and means now to go on at once with a large force of men, upon the new building. By Commencement time it is hoped that the walls will be well under way, and our visiting friends may be given an idea of the general plan of the interior.

Every true Alumnus of the school will be glad to note the continued prosperity of the school.

Prof. Welsh is away this week. He is attending the examination at the West Chester School, examining in English Grammar, Rhetoric, Latin and kindred subjects. He will probably return Friday. He has our sympathy these hot days.

Among the many good things of the school which have helped continually, to elevate the standard of rectitude and true moral worth among the students, to say nothing of the beautiful development and growth of christian character in so large a number of our young men and women, no one thing has done more than the sending each year, of a delegation of our boys to Dr. Moody's school at Northfield, Conn., to spend ten days in organized Bible study under the splendid leadership of his trained disciples.

This year it is hoped we shall be able to send a larger number than ever. To this end a meeting was held Sunday evening which may well be called a Northfield meeting. Various remarks were made by the delegates who attended last year and then efforts were made to secure funds to aid in defraying the expenses of those who shall go this year. The delegates elected by the Association are Messrs. Sutliff, Hendricks, Deiffenderfer. Hubler, Beale, and the President of the Association, Frank Patton.

Mr. Dillon the florist, is now busy with a force of men preparing the beds for the usual placing of beautiful flowers about the grounds. The advent of the flowers is always hailed by every student with gladness, for they add so much of beauty, and cheerfulness, and inspiration to the grounds.

Again the school is called upon to mourn the death of a fellow student. Mr. David Lesher, youngest son of Robert Lesher, and who had just recently attained his 21st year died Saturday evening last, at 5.30 o'clock. He was sick only about ten days, and his loss to our school will be sorely felt.

Dave was a quiet boy, always at his post, and ready for duty. His death was a most peaceful and happy one.

The school sent Profs. Bakeless and Albert; the Y. M. C. A. and the Philo Society in both of which Mr. Lesher was an active worker, sent Messrs. Bloss and Robt. Patton and Messrs. DeWitt and Kelly, to attend the funeral, which occurred at 2 P. M. Tuesday.

A grand neice of Dr. J. Schuyler, Miss Kitty McClain of California, was married at the residence of the Dr's. Wednesday morning, June 7th, at 9:30, to Dr. Mark Purdy of Corning, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Schuyler of Everett, Bedford county, a cousin of the bride. Miss McClain is a Pennsylvanian by birth, and was acquainted with Dr. Purdy before removing to her late home in California. The bridal party took the train for the lakes about Michigan and will conclude their tour at the World's Fair, Chicago, after which returning to Corning, New York, where Dr. Purdy has charge of a Sanitorium.

There was a large attendance at St. Paul's Church last Sunday morning and evening. Rev. Dr. Zahner assisted the rector in the morning, and preached in the evening. He retains all his old time vigor, and gave an excellent sermon. He was warmly welcomed back here where for eight years he was the popular head of the parish. He returned to his home in Massachusetts on Monday.

About thirty couples attended the dance at Oak Grove on Thursday evening. Music and refreshments were provided by Chas. P. Elwell's Orchestra. It was a very pleasant occasion, and the music was excellent. The refreshments were furnished by Mrs. Phillips.

A change has been made in the Benton postoffice, C. B. McHenry having been appointed in place of John Heacock. He is a son of Rohr McHenry, and the appointment is an excellent one.

ROYCE--MONROE.

Last week Thursday at 5.30 o'clock Miss Elisabeth Monroe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Monroe of Rupert, was joined in the bonds of matrimony to Mr. Henry Herbert Royce of Brooklyn, N. Y., at the residence of her parents.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. C. Leverett, rector of St. Paul's Church. The spacious house was beautifully decorated with flowers and evergreen, and the guests numbering nearly 150 found ample accommodation without any crowding.

Miss Katharine Gardner of Bloomsburg, and Miss Nellie Monroe, sister of the bride, were the bridesmaids. Monroe Church of Ashland, cousin of the bride was best man, and Frank P. Pursel, Frank Ikeler, Frank Wilson and Robert W. Hartman all of Bloomsburg, were the ushers. The bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Geo. E. Elwell. During the evening delightful music was rendered by Chas. P. Elwell, Prof. W. H. Butts and Edward Searles. Mr. Monroe never does anything by halves. The refreshments were most delicious, and there was everything provided to gratify all tastes, however varied. Throughout it was a charming wedding, and the guests were handsomely entertained by a royal host and hostess. Mr. and Mrs. Royce went to Williamsport on the 8.30 train, thence to Watkins Glen and many other points of interest.

They will reside in Brooklyn. The presents were numerous and beautiful, embracing silver, cut glass, china, furniture, &c.

Many guests were present from a distance, among them being Mrs. Royce, mother of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Hodgdon, Miss Pratt, Scranton; Mrs. William Leverett, Wilkesbarre; Hendrick B. Search and family, Shickshinny; Miss Hamilton and Mr. John Harris, Tyrone; Mrs. Frick, Kansas, Rev. Thos. H. Cullen and wife, Freebold, N. J.; Rev. Dr. Zahner, Adams, Mass.; Rev. C. J. Wood, Lock Haven, the Misses Rahm, Towanda; Miss Millard, Centralia; Mr. Stevens, Williamsport; Dr. and Mrs. Robbins, Major I. H. Seesholtz and wife, Catawissa; Miss Beadle and Miss Search, Shickshinny, Mrs. Dr. Biddle, Ashland, Mr. Arthur Wooly, Danville, Miss Monroe, Pleasant Mount.

A CARD OF THANKS.

The memorial committee in behalf of Col. Ent Post No. 250 G. A. R., take this method of expressing their thanks to the citizens of Bloomsburg, Light Street and Espy, who have taken an active part in our memorial services. Namely, comrade J. B. Robison for his eloquent address; Rev. C. H. Brandt for his fine address made at Afton. Many thanks to Mrs. Edwards, and ladies of the G. A. R. for flowers and wreaths. To all people who sent carriages. To all the orders who took part in the parade. To the Commissioners for use of Court House, and most hearty thanks to the Odd Fellows, and their ladies for the grand manner in which they entertained Ent Post at Espy. We also remember the COLUMBIAN for past favors. A grateful people pause from their labor to commemorate with sad melodies and eloquent words, laden with earth's fairest flowers the sacrifices of that silent army who gave their lives that we might be a free and happy people.

Very Respectfully,

C. P. SLOAN,
T. M. DAWSON,
W. R. RINGROSE. } Committee.

The following letters are held at the Bloomsburg, Pa., post office and will be sent to the dead letter office June 20, 1893.

Mr. M. Aal, C. P. Duffey, Miss Flora Detrich, Miss Gertie Kisner, H. B. Leach, Mr. Harvey Marsh, Claude Maustellar, William Miller, Henry Page, Elizabeth A. Smith, Mrs. Eva M. Thomas, George W. Winter.

Persons calling for these letters will please say they were advertised June 6th, 1893. One cent will be charged on each letter advertised.

A. B. CATHCART, P. M.

A thief entered the jewelry store of Hess Bros., on Tuesday night, getting in through the window in the rear of the building, and stole seven clocks valued at $10.00. He could have taken many hundreds of dollars worth of jewelry, but didn't. His name is supposed to be Procrastination, for "procrastination is the thief of time."

J. K. Bittenbender is repainting his residence, corner of Third and Centre Streets.

TWO PREACHERS IN TROUBLE.

BOTH ARE KNOWN IN COLUMBIA COUNTY

An exchange says:

"The Bradford Baptist Association held a meeting at Canton two weeks ago to take cognizance of the charges preferred against Rev. C. A. Babcock, a member of the Bradford association. The charges were that the reverend gentlemen had departed from the line of duty and acted in a manner unbecoming a minister of the Gospel. After hearing the testimony as presented to the council, it was found necessary to approve the finding and in consequence the aforesaid Mr. Babcock was deposed from the ministry."

At the time of the vote on the Prohibition amendment to the constitution, Mr. Babcock resided in Bloomsburg for several months, and had charge of the campaign for the Prohibition party.

The Milton Record says:

"Some years ago a clergyman by the name of R. H. Singer, came here and organized a church under the title of the Disciples of Christ. He went from here to Clinton county where a bad streak overtook him. He and his parishioners at Fleming disagreed. A suit followed which never came to issue. Fayette county heard of these things and he was sent for to answer for crimes committed in that county. He is still in jail because nobody wants to put up $1,000 for his appearance."

This is supposed to be the same man who created considerable commotion up the creek a year or two ago, and about whom there was a lengthy correspondence published in the COLUMBIAN. The charges against him are of the same character as those that were made in this county.

AN OLD STORY.

As we are now hearing and reading so many stories about Chicago, and not always of a style that is intended to be complimentary, it brings to my mind a story that was published about forty-five years ago.

At that time Chicago and St. Louis were rival villages, and many were the spicy stories told by one citizen at the expense of the other. The following is a specimen of a St. Louis writer.

"A man from St. Louis went to Chicago on business; while there he fell sick, and as he was a stranger and rather plainly dressed no one paid much attention to him. One morning after moping around for a few days, he failed to put in an appearance. The landlord went to his room and found him to all appearance past praying for. His papers were then examined to ascertain who he was and where he belonged. It was discovered that he was one of the wealthiest men in St. Louis. A physician was summoned to examine the case and determine what had caused his death. An examination developed the fact that he was not actually dead, but rather in a stupor or a trance. Means were promptly made use of to restore him to consciousness, and success rewarded their efforts. He improved very rapidly, and in a few days he was so that he could sit up and converse with those around him.

The landlord being of an inquisitive turn of mind asked him, "How did things appear to you while in a trance?" The stranger replied, "I thought I had died and gone to Heaven. I knocked at the door, a porter opened it and ushered me into a room where I found St. Peter sitting at a desk or writing table, and beside him a smoking bowl of whiskey toddy. He invited me to take a seat, and then asked me, "Where did you live down below?" I told him in St. Louis, in the state of Missouri. "Where did you die?" I told him in Chicago in the state of Illinois. He glanced over some papers and shook his head saying, "There is no such place."

"I beg your pardon, sir," said I, "but have you a map of the United States here."

He handed me down a splendid atlas. I turned to the map and pointed to the place.

"Well! well!" said he, "sure enough there it is, but I'll be blest if you are not the first man that ever came here from that place."

Times have greatly changed since the above was written, and it may not now be so surprising to St. Peter if some one from Chicago calls at his office. If the idea that he keeps the smoking bowl at his side is a correct one, I have no doubt that would be a great attraction. C.

Mured Edgar died at his home in Fishingcreek township on Sunday afternoon. He was a son of county commissioner B. F. Edgar, and leaves a wife and child. The funeral took place on Wednesday morning.

SCHOOL BOARD.

A meeting of the School Board was held at the High School Library, Friday evening, June 2nd, to hear the report of the Treasurer. The report was read, directed to be given to the Auditors, and when affirmed by Auditors, it was directed that the statement be published in the Republican and the COLUMBIAN. An adjourned meeting was called for Monday evening.

Monday evening, June 5th, board met pursuant to adjournment, the Treasurer's report as presented was approved by the auditors, and accepted by the board, after which the old board dissolved. A meeting of the new board was immediately called, and Joseph Garrison made temporary chairman and W. E. Rinker, Secretary. On motion it was directed that in view of the increased labor assigned because of the Act requiring directors to purchase all text books and the Secretary to keep a record of them, therefore the salary of the Secretary be fixed at $175 per year. The motion was unanimously agreed to. The commission of the treasurer was fixed at 2 per cent. on all moneys paid by orders, and if any bonds should be issued, 1 per cent. on all moneys so received and disbursed. The following officers were then selected for the year: President, Joseph Garrison; Secretary, W. E. Rinker; Treasurer, J. R. Townsend. On motion it was resolved that the next school term shall consist of nine months, and that Monday, June 19th be fixed as the time for the selection of teachers and janitors; a notice of which to be published in the town papers. The tax rate was fixed at 5½ mills—3½ for school purposes and 2 for building purposes. It was resolved to charge a tuition of 50 cents per week to all parties residing out the district—one half payable in advance.

CENTENNIAL NOTES.

Miss Mary K. Snyder of Selinsgrove, a lady who is much interested in the work of the Episcopal Church, was among the distinguished visitors who attended the centennial celebration of St. Paul's Church last week.

Bishop Howe had expected to attend the centennial last week, but was prevented by his infirmities incident to old age.

The old bell was an object of much interest to the visitors. It now stands in the corridor between the church and Parish House, and it is the intention of the church authorities to place it on a pedestal, and preserve it as a relic. It was made in 1838, and was the first church bell in Bloomsburg.

Rev. T. B. Angell, Archdeacon of Harrisburg Archdeaconry, was among the after dinner speakers at the lunch, in the Parish House.

Rev. G. C. Foley, ex-Archdeacon of Williamsport Archdeaconry was among those called upon by the Bishop for an after dinner speech.

The funeral of Rev. John Donohoe took place last Friday afternoon. Among those present were Rev. Dr. Monroe, Rev. R. Hinckle. Rev. Dr. Pennypacker, Rev. M. L. Ganoe, Rev. Dr. Mitchell, Rev. Dr. Foster, Rev. Dr. Evans, Rev. S. W. Sears, Rev. D. H. Shields, Rev. Mr. Ferguson, Rev. Dr. Bowman, and a large number of other Methodist Clergymen of the district.

Mr. Donohue entered the ministry in 1865, and had charges consecutively at Mount Holly, Altoona, Chambersburg, Waynesboro, Everett, Williamsport, Bellefonte, Bloomsburg, Ashland, Hazleton, and was made Presiding elder in 1889. He was a graduate of Dickinson College, Carlisle. The remains were taken to Baltimore for burial on Saturday morning.

A little excitement was created Tuesday evening by the arrest of a street vender. The facts as given us, are, that he advertised in Tuesday's Daily that there would be a public auction of shirts and gents' furnishing goods on Market Square in the evening. In the evening the vender appeared as advertised and began his sales, when a warrant preferred by John Mosteller, one of our town merchants, was served on the traveller and he was taken before Guy Jacoby Esq. for violation of the laws of trade—by not paying either tax or mercantile license. In the squire's office the traveller testified that he had obtained permission from the President of the Town Council; the answer was given that it was a violation of the county and state laws, over which the town had no jurisdiction. The traveller was left off by paying the costs and promising to leave town immediately.

Adjournment.

The Supreme Court finished its session for the Middle district at Harrisburg, last Friday, and adjourned to meet in Philadelphia this week Wednesday to hear the application of the Building Commission for an injunction. There will be a session on July 18th, when it is likely a decision will be rendered in the Reading railroad "combine" case, and possibly in the Harman will case and the case of Hoffman against the B. & S. R. R. Company, from this county.

Mrs. Harriet A. Marble, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., was for years a martyr to headache, and never found anything to give her more than temporary relief until she began to take Ayer's Pills, since which she has been in the enjoyment of perfect health.

Dr. D. J. Waller Jr., retired from the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction last Friday. He made a very efficient officer.

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Hattie Sloan, and Mr. Russell Andreas of Wilkesbarre on the 14th inst. The ceremony will take place in St. Paul's Church at 9 o'clock in the evening.

The contract for the stone work on the Merrell bridge in Greenwood township has been awarded to T. H. Tubbs; that of the Knecht bridge in Main township to N. A. Tubbs, and the Fritz bridge in Sugarloaf to J. M. Larish.

If Oak Grove is worth buying, it is worth keeping in good order. The town authorities should look after it, and put it in good condition. It is in a state of ruinous negligence now.

The son of W. H. Rhawn Esq., of Catawissa, is supposed to be in the neighborhood of Erie, and arrangements have been made for his return home.

James Hendershott will lend the influence of his enticing smile to Gilmore's restaurant during the absence of the proprietor at the World's Fair.

Rev. C. H. Brandt and N. U. Funk Esq., are attending the session of the Wyoming Classis of the Reformed Church at Hazleton this week.

The Shamokin Herald thinks that Rev. S. M. Frost is the probable successor of the late Rev. John Donohue as Presiding Elder of this district.

Charles Rittenhouse, son of commissioner Rittenhouse has been appointed postmaster at Mountain Grove.

F. M. Leader has raised the pavement in front of his property, adjoining H. W. Sloan's.

A game of base ball was played between the Normal School nine and Danville club last Monday, score 15 to 9 in favor of the Normal.

Our townsman J. R. Townsend, does not look any older than he did before he became a grand father. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Townsend of Berwick on Saturday last.

The painters are having a run on Market street. W. S. Moyer and C. P. Sloan have had their residences painted. H. W. Sloan's house is now in the painter's hands, and I. W. McKelvy will keep up with the procession.

J. C. Brown accompanied by an engineer from Reading made a survey Thursday for the location of the new reservoir. It will be placed higher up than the old one and will contain much more water. The rapid growth of the town makes this improvement necessary.

THE PRESIDENT MAY ATTEND.

Tammany Will Ask Cleveland to Attend Its Big Celebration.

NEW YORK, June 6.—A meeting of the Tammany Society was held in the Wigwam last night to consider the arrangements for the Fourth of July celebration. Some of the preleminaries have been settled, but the program will not be completed until the next meeting, on June 24.

President Cleveland, the members of the cabinet, all the democratic governors, the United States Senators and about fifty members of the lower house will receive invitations.

There has been some gossip to the effect that President Cleveland would not receive an invitation on account of his recent treatment of Tammany and the state democracy, but this course will not be followed. Mr. Cleveland has received invitations to these celebrations ever since his elevation to the governorship ten yearsago. He has never accepted, but has always written a letter. This year it is expected that he will do as heretofore.

Lightning's Queer Freak.

YORK, June 7.—During a thunder storm lightning entered a second-story window of the residence of Harry Powell, corner of George street and Boundary avenue. Mrs. Powell had just closed a window and started across the room, when a ball of fire flew through another window that had been left open. It struck the floor within two feet of the lady, then bounded up and exploded, filling the room with smoke. Mr. Powell, who was lying in the adjoining room, and was looking at his wife at the time, saw her enveloped in smoke and apparant flame. Fortunately, however, Mrs. Powell escaped injury. After the ball of fire struck the floor, ripping up the carpet, the bolt entered the chimney at the upper corner of the register, knocking a hole through the flue.

For a Profit-Sharing Factory.

PITTSBURG, June 7.—The H. J. Heins Preserving Company has had under consideration the putting into operation of a profit-sharing scheme at their glass factory, located at Sumner Station. The product of the factory comprises glass bottles and other articles consumed in the pickle business. There is now a prospect that the idea will be put into practice. J. D. Sherman, one of the company's representatives from Indianapolis, addressed the employes on the subject, explaining the details of the proposed system. Heretofore the workmen have received the usual wages paid in that business. Under the plan they will probably be better off.

Another Chicago Bank Goes Down.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Herman Schaffner & Co., private bankers at No. 100 Washington street, assigned Saturday afternoon. Schaffner was one of the oldest bankers in the west and did an enormous business in the purchase and sale of commercial paper. The assignment was made to the American Trust and Savings bank and R. J. Chapman was placed in charge of the wreck and began an investigation. The liabilities are placed at $2,000,000, among which are $800,000 in deposits.

Mr. McLeod's Successor Not Appointed.

BOSTON, June 5.—At the meeting of the Boston and Maine directors Saturday afternoon it was decided, owing to the absence of certain members of the board, to defer the election of a successor to President McLeod until a meeting to be held on the 27th inst. The letters of Mr. McLeod resigning the presidency and his position as director were read.

First Strike of the Season.

PITTSBURG, June 3.—The first strike of the year in the iron and steel circles was inaugurated at the Wayne iron works of Brown & Co., Yesterday. Sixty men are affected. The strike is the first of the kind in the history of the Amalgamated association involving a point that may prove a factor in the future settlement of wage scales.

Attacked by Highbinders.

SPOKANE, Wash., June 6.—Chinese highbinders attacked Frank Wong and Charley Lum, agents of the Chinese Six Companies, in an alley here and nearly killed them. Clubs and knives were used. Wong and Lum were suspected of giving information to the police which led to a raid on an opium den. The highbinders escaped.

Will be Forced Into Liquidation.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The Shoe and Leather National bank late yesterday afternoon gave notice that it will not clear for the Canal Street bank after to-day. This will make it necessary for the Canal Street bank to go into liquidation. Its deposits are about $450,000.

Republicans Asked to Resign.

GUTHRIE Okla., June 6.—Governor Renfrow, the new democratic executive, has called for the resignation of every republican territorial official. The removal of these officers will be followed by an investigation, which it is believed will reveal much rottenness.

The Toronto Pool Rooms Must Go.

EDWIN BOOTH PASSES AWAY.

The Great Tragedian Breathed His Last at 1:15 This Morning.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Edwin Booth, the great tragedian, quietly passed away at his apartments in the Players' Club at 1:15 this morning.

The death of the renowned actor, which had been expected at any time during the past two days, was peaceful, being scarcely noticeable to the anxious watchers at his bedside.

Edwin Booth was born in Belair, near Baltimore, Md., on November 13, 1833.

WHEAT TAKES ANOTHER DROP.

Apprehension in the Chicago Produce Market—A Small Trader Fails.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Wheat prices were over a cent off yesterday, breaking the record again for low prices in this market. Pardridge was a free seller and the crowd was apprehensive about failures.

The announcement of the suspension of Meadowcroft Bros. confirmed the fear, but caused no particular additional break in prices. Large northwestern receipts, flat cables and increase in ocean passage figures were all weak factors.

Nelson Vankirk, a small trader, but a veteran, failed to go through the Board of Trade Clearing House yesterday.

The Forest Fires in Minnesota.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 7.—A destructive forest fire is raging in Stevens county, this state. It started in a dense pine forest Saturday last, and has gained terrible headway. Already miles of fine timber has been consumed. Several towns are in the path of the fire.

Attorney General Hensel will deliver the address to the seventeen graduates from the Dickinson school of law, at Carlisle, next Tuesday.

Governor Pattison has vetoed the special act repealing the bounty on fox and mink scalps so far as it applies to Greene county. He says it is unconstitutional.

B. J. Heywood, of Mercer, who is making a race for the republican nomination for state treasurer, has been endorsed by Mercer, Lawrence and Blair conventions.

William N. Reynolds, of Wyoming, who has just left a good position in Washington, would like the republican nomination for secretary of internal affairs next year.

Governor Pattison has signed the act providing for the erection of the Western Pennsylvania Institution for Feeble-Minded Children. A commission will select the site and contract for its erection.

The writ of quo warranto asked for by Attorney General Hensel against the Traction Company and the Union Passenger Railway Company, of Philadelphia, will not be argued for some time, defendants having thirty days in which to answer.

Two years ago the house appropriation committee had referred to it 234 bills, involving an expenditure of $26,480,528.26. Of these 68 were negatived and the committee granted a total sum of $20,341,-541.29, reducing the demands $6,138,-981.97. This session Chairman Marshall's committee received 282 bills and 84 were negatived. The original total was $36,-921,782.15, but the committee scaled this down to $22,148,783.36, a cut of $14,774,-998.69. As it stands now, with the additional appropriation to the schools, the estimate of the committee has not been exceeded more than $10,000. It is the governor's intention to dispose of the bills as rapidly as possible.

Governor pattison has made the following appointments: Eastburn Reeder, of New Hope, Bucks county, to be dairy and food commissioner, under the State board of agriculture; Robert Watchorn, to be factory inspector; Christian Heydrick, Venango; Norman Hall, Mercer; George A. Jenks, Jefferson; George Guthrie, Allegheny, and ex-Mayor W. Horace Rose, Cambria, to be commissioners to select a site for the Western Pennsylvania Institution for Feeble-Minded Children. As president of the State board of agriculture, the governor is empowered to appoint the dairy and food commissioner. It is claimed by the state administration that under the provisions of the new act relating to the employment and safety of women and children in manufacturing establishments, and the appointment of inspectors to enforce the same, the governor has the right to appoint a factory inspector at once, and he re-appointed Robert Watchorn, who was rejected by the senate, and over whom the senate and governor had some trouble. Under the new act Watchorn's salary is doubled from $1,500 to $3,000 per year. He is given $4,000 for expenses and will appoint twelve deputies instead of six under the old act.

THE NEW STATE HOLIDAY LAW.

Some of Its Provisions—Greater Convenences for Debtors.

HARRISBURG, June 7.—Under the new holiday and half holiday law, approved May 31 by the governor, New Year's Day, Washington's Birthday, Good Friday, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, November election day, Thanksgiving Day, Christmas Day, and any other day appointed or recommended by the president or the governor for religious observance are holidays, and all Saturdays not thus made holidays are half holidays from 12 o'clock noon.

Whenever New Year's Day, Washington's Birthday, Independance Day, or Christmas Day occurs on Sunday, the following Monday is to be observed as the holiday. Whenever Memorial Day (May 30) falls on Sunday, the preceding Saturday is to be observed as the holiday. Labor Day occurs on the first Saturday of September, November election day is the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November.

Time bills of exchange, checks, drafts, and promissory notes made after the passage of the law, and maturing by their terms on any such holidays, half holidays, or on Sundays, are not payable or presentable for payment or acceptance, nor protestable for non-payment or non-acceptance, until the next succeeding secular or business day.

Sight or demand checks, drafts, bills of exchange, and promissory notes are payable before 12 o'clock on half holidays, but are not protestable for non-payment or non-acceptance until the next succeeding secular or business day, and no liability is incurred through failure to present or protest sight or demand items on half holidays.

Under the half holiday law approved May 31, February election day, which occurs on the third Tuesday of February, is a legal half holiday from 12 o'clock noon; and all bills of exchange, checks, drafts, and notes made after the passage of the law that are presentable for acceptance or payment on such half holiday, are deemed to be payable and to be presentable for acceptance or payment at or before 12 o'clock of such half holiday, and are then protestable for non-payment or non-acceptance.

WAS TOO STRONG FOR HIS BROTHER.

Edward Rausch Jumps from a Roof to Death in New York.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Edward Rausch, 20 years old, a plumber living in the five-story tenement No. 423 East Eighteenth street, attempted suicide by jumping from the roof. He was taken to the Presbyterian hospital and probably will die.

His brother, George, who is an invalid and has only one arm, followed him to the roof and endeavored to stop him from jumping. The two brothers struggled, but George was unabled to hold his brother back.

Guimand Held for Embezzlement.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—Harry Guimand, residing at No. 1838 Arch street, with an office at No. 1833 Arch street, was held in $1,800 bail by Magistrate Devlin on three charges of embezzlement, $600 bond being required in each. Guiman is accused by James McCormick, of No. 887 Bergdoll street, with the embezzlement of $612; John P. McCoy, of No. 2224 Wallace street, charges up a shortage against him of $210.29, being the amount due the estate of the late John Carr, while Cornelius Myers, of No. 2909 Girard avenue, says that the accused owes him profits amounting to $375.

Lizzie Borden Fainted.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 7.—In the Lizzie Borden murder trial yesterday when the prosecutor had closed his opening address to the jury in the celebrated case, Miss Borden fainted and remained in an unconscious condition for several minutes. When she was restored to her natural state court adjourned to allow the jury to go to Fall River to examine the Borden homestead where the tragedy for which Miss Borden is being tried occurred.

A Whole Family Murdered.

CLARENCEVILLE, Que., June 5.—The dead bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Eddy and their daughter were found Saturday in their home at Beach Ridge, a few miles below here. To all appearances they were murdered during the night. The motive for the crime is not known, as the victims were poor and robbery could have had no part in it.

To-morrow at the Fair.

CHICAGO, June 3.—The Fair program for to-morrow, so far as relates to the religious exercises, hangs fire, although there is but little time to make arrangements. Choral Director Tomlin is ready to provide the choir of 300 voices to lead in the congregational singing and render anthems.

A Cyclone in Indiana.

RICHMOND, Ind., June 5.—A message from Hagerstown says that a cyclone passed over the northwest part of Wayne county. At Economy the residence of Mr. Lowe was completely destroyed and considerable other damage done. No lives were lost.

Captured the Robbers.

LEBANON, June 3.—Thursday night the clothing store of Levi Siv was entered by breaking open the front door of the store and robbed of about $700 worth of goods. The robbers were caught near Sheridan station yesterday afternoon.

Cyclone Victims Suffering.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 5.—Great distress exists in Hope, Ark., and the vicinity, among the victims of the cyclone of May 30. At least 5,000 people are homeless and destitute. They obtain with difficulty barely enough food to sustain life.

Nine Lives Were Lost.

VICTORIA, B. C., June 3.—The steamer Tacoma, which arrived from Yokahoma, brings news that the Russian corvette Nitiaz went ashore on the Corean coast May 15, and became a total wreck. Nine lives were lost.

Two Killed and Thirteen Injured.

BERLIN, June 5.—A cart load of gunpowder was exploded yesterday afternoon on a street in Kirn, Rhenish Prussia, by a spark from a pipe. The two men on the cart were killed and thirteen other persons were injured.

Courtesy of the Garnet's Officers.

MEMORIAL ADDRESS

OF CAPT. JAS. BOYD ROBISON AT THE COURT HOUSE, BLOOMSBURG, MAY 30, 1893.

COMRADES, AND LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—It is just twenty five years, a quarter of a century, since I had the honor of inaugurating the first observance of Decoration day in Bloomsburg. In the forenoon I set the type and printed the posters inviting the assistance of the citizens who, in the afternoon, responded with an abundance of flowers at Snyder's Hall. From there we proceeded to the cemetery and decorated the graves.

This is a day of memories; proud memories of heroic deeds and noble sacrifices; sad memories of loved ones gone, of bereaved widows, parents and friends. Yet looking around and seeing these youths with their strength and life, and their bright and hopeful eyes, the sadness of the heart is cheered at sight of present joys and pleasant anticipations of the future.

I believe that in all the pages of life's story, there are no recollections and no experiences that will kindle the eye and warm the blood like those of that period when youth, having reached full stature, is entering, with light and joyous step, that transition period into the maturity of manhood.

From sixteen to twenty five is the diamond age of humanity. From the time when the bashful boy first ventures to pay his respects to the maidens until with his chosen mate he settles into the quiet of domestic life and the cares of business, joyous and light hearted, his outlook on life sparkles with the brightest expectations; his frolics and pleasures are then the gayest, and his hopes and aspirations the strongest. The disappointments and bitterness of the sterner struggles of real life have not yet dimmed the lustre of success. The present is merry and the future is bright. Enjoy it while you may. Every generation before you has had the same happy period. Human nature repeats itself, if not exactly the same, yet as near alike as the tree of to-day is like its kind of a thousand years ago.

It was more than thirty years ago, when the youth of this land were called upon to give up these joys and pleasures of home. The average age of the volunteers who responded to the calls of the government was less than twenty years.

The drafts brought in older men, but the average even then was less than twenty three. The great battles that saved this union were fought by almost beardless boys. There were more of them in their teens than beyond that age. Life was as bright to them and as joyous as to any of these sons of veterans or of these students. The demands of patriotism called them from the college, the school, the shop and the farm. They gave up the pleasures and pastimes of youth for the stern realities of war. You cannot fully appreciate that sacrifice. God forbid that you ever shall!

Until the crisis came the belief had become fixed that the day had passed when Americans should be called upon to defend their government with the weapons of war. Christian sentiment and popular government had been building the edifice of perpetual peace. The era of liberty, of peace and good will throughout the land and to all the inhabitants thereof had been fully established from the day the old liberty bell had rung out its exultant challenge to tyranny.

But suddenly the nation was awakened to the fact that the millenium was still far away. The boys accepted the responsibility. No more home caress, the maiden's welcome, the frolic and the dance. Boys became men. The glowing patriotism matured the youth. They took up the duties of the soldier. Do you know what those duties were? No! You may read of them or picture them as you sit in easy chair at home. You may play at them in home drill and picnic camp, but you cannot see the reality. Think of the weary marches. Load yourself with 50 or 60 lbs. of baggage and go out under the burning sun. Foot sore and weary plod along at will, for hour after hour and you are engaged in child's play as compared with the forced tramp of wearied lines of thousands of homeless, houseless boys, in dust and heat, or through wind, rain and storm, in driving sleet and chill winds; lying down in wet clothing on wet ground with no cover but the canopy of heaven, days, weeks, months, years. Don't long for the comforts of home! Bite into the hard bread and fat pork in contentment; for next day unfed by delayed stores you may have to go hungry into battle. And when the battle comes, with its shrieking shell and whistling bullet, with it comes the thought that to-day may be your last on earth. You think of mother and father, of dear friends who may never again greet you at home. Or you may be crippled for life, and, in addition to the waste of years have another impediment in the race with your fellows for the successes of life. One day we had a comrade, joyous and light hearted making the best of a soldier's life, enjoying sports with us or talking in happy hopes of the coming time when we should return to our friends and home. The next day that comrade is wracked with pain of cruel wounds or his boyish face is cold in death. But the battle field is not the only post of danger or test of valor or merit in the soldier. He who thinks so is greatly mistaken. The true soldier goes where he is sent, and that may be on guard or police duty in the regions of miasmatic swamps, as in the Mississippi bottoms or the Louisianna lagoons.

The figures of war show that disease, the exposures and hardships of camp and field, and the strain of those unavoidable incidents of soldier life in all sections are more deadly foes to health and vigor and the vitality of soldiers than battle wounds.

In the unhealthy regions of swamps, in the hot scorching suns of summer and the chilling rains of winter, in inadequate protection from the elements, in food but poorly cooked and limited in variety, and in the many inconveniences and deprivations of the common comforts of life are met more deadly foes than rifle or cannon. He who was so unfortunate as to be sent to southern prison pens was going into comparatively certain death. The records of Andersonville show a mortality for the month of October, 1864, of 18 per cent. Do you realize those figures? It means total annihilation of a body of men in less than six months Very few men remained in prison over six months and came home to a future of health. If any did they had fared better than common. You cannot understand the terrible trials of prison life in the south. You may see the picture, but the whole truth in its realism is not there any more than the picture of Niagara Falls can convey the thunder of the cataract or the irresistible force of the moving mass of water. I would not, if I could, describe all the horrors of that life. And even what is told you cannot feel. You cannot feel that gnawing hunger, morning, noon and night, hour after hour, week after week, month after month, while the body shrinks, and you are constantly growing weaker, fighting vermin, looking into the eyes of comrades miserable as yourself; seeing gant and haggard shapes about you that are the shadows of yourself; jealous lest your comrade shall get a crumb of bread that belongs to you, watchful that the rations are divided as exactly to a hair's weight as human eye and human judgment can make it. I have had to step in between men to stop a fight because one comrade complained that some crumbs fell on his side of the knife, in dividing the bread ration, had been scraped up by another.

Look further and see the scurvied flesh. Scant quantity was joined with scant quality and scant variety. The end of the finger pressed on the flesh left a cavity that no longer sprang back with life, and teeth could be rattled against each other by a touch of the finger. Men's feet were frosted to blackness and to the loss of nails and worse. All this I have seen and more. I have heard in the dark night when every ray of light was shut out, the groaning of those who, compelled to grope their way to another part of the room, have fallen through the unprotected stairway opening to the floor below. Groaning the night long, the stairway having been removed, his comrades could not, and the rebel guards would not help him. I dare not tell you all, but as an American I am proud to say that with grand fortitude those men in their starving condition encouraged each other with patriotic fervor to confidence in the ultimate triumph of the nation. I said men and they were men. Youths, like these before me, made men in the highest sense by the strong growth of patriotism and the forcing culture of trials and hardships. Young in years but old and haggard in experience. From three to five years taken away from one's life between 18 and 25 is no light matter. Those years thus lost can never be regained, and he who loses them is that much behind in the life race. Add the hardships and exposure, wounds or disease, the physical constitution weakened and you have a large bill to count in sacrifice by him who obeys the call of his country as a soldier. Here, in the path of peace and homes of prosperity, the killed and crippled are but incidents in history. We are apt to forget the sacrifice of the best years of life, the weakened constitutions, the lingering disease, sometimes latent, but yet, especially with men naturally rugged, springing up in later years to sap the health and strength. Over 369,000 Union soldiers laid down their lives in suppressing rebellion. About two of these by disease to one by wounds. This is remarkable when the record of wars in civilized countries give five deaths by disease to one by wounds. It shows the hardihood, as well as the valor, of the American, and the severity of the fighting. In a great many union regiments the record reverses the civilized rule and shows a loss of from three to five by wounds to one by disease. Such records appear in many Pennsylvania regiments. The men, or rather boys, when they went into service were stripped of every piece of clothing and thoroughly examined for every weakening defect. They went into the service in perfect health and strength. Remember this when you see these same men in middle life, broken down, with a lack of vigor and vitality belonging to men at least ten years older.

Of those who survived their service and were discharged I doubt if two-thirds as many are alive as would have been alive had they seen no service. Of young men alive at twenty, in ordinary life, about two-thirds should be alive at fifty. When it is considered that in accordance with custom from the very first organization of the government of the United States the widows of all deceased soldiers and all soldiers disabled in service are pensioned, and that soldiers of previous wars have been pensioned after they pass middle life, the cry that a few enemies of the soldiers of 1861–1865 are raising against the system of pensions is contrary to the history of the nation and unjust to those to whom the country owes its progressive prosperity. That spirit is no encouragement to the youth of the country should another great emergency arise. The cry in 1861 was: "Young men go! The country needs you and you shall not suffer by the sacrifice." I have heard the remark that the soldier was paid for his services. In the service were men who had just about finished their apprenticeship or who had become more or less proficient in business, or skilful in agriculture or the various occupations. Young men in large numbers well educated and just ready to go into professional studies. The first enlisted man killed in our company was a college graduate in 1861. He enlisted before commencement day. Another enlisted man killed in the same battle was a fine Greek and Latin scholar. And there were many students and graduates from different colleges with us. Nearly all our men were fitted for more than the work of a common laborer, and yet they were getting, for hardships and exposure and the dangers of the battle field, first eleven and afterwards thirteen dollars per month, working week days and Sundays, when a common laborer at that time was getting fifty dollars and upwards with the comforts of home life. I mention these facts because the time has come when men either ignorant or forgetful of the sacrifices of the soldier and of the grandeur of this nation and its prosperity as compared with what it would have been had secession succeeded, fall into the habit of slurring the soldier and of crying out in parsimonious horror against the pension list.

If any man has fraudulently obtained a pension, for service not rendered, let the remedy be applied to him and not in wholesale denunciation of the deserving. If some man who wore the blue, weakened by his exposure is unable to resist temptation to intemperance remember that the great body of his comrades are, on the average more temperate and well behaved citizens that can well be found. And don't unfairly pick out the exception as the general rule.

When you have pensioned the living and the widows of the dead of over two and a quarter million union soldiers you will have done no more than is done for the soldiers of the Mexican war, most of whom were rebels.

About four years ago while waiting for the change of cars at Northumberland, I saw some veterans who were gathering for a regimental re-union. When I went into the car I heard a young man who looked as if he was in comfortable circumstances with a claim of intelligence, in answer to a remark of another about the soldiers, say sneeringly: "Yes some of them are still around." I thought there were a great many things that man did not know. I had known that regiment. It had served in the same division in which I had served. It had done good service and never failed in its duty. I knew it when those gray heads were young. Some of its members were my playmates. I knew their record in camp and field. About 15 per cent. of their number had died of their wounds. About 4 per cent. had died of disease in their three year's service. Of the survivors who had been discharged from service, had they come home as hearty as when they entered the service, there should have been at the time of that re-union over 600 alive according to life tables. But not two-thirds of that number could be discovered by their comrades who managed their association. They were gathering there from far and near, even from the Rocky mountains and the Pacific coast, but they could find no such number alive. In fact we did not see there one hundred! And yet that man could sneer because of that hundred. They were too many for his taste. He knew nothing of their sacrifices, of their perils, he knew nothing of the debt he and others owed for the privilege of living in a land of freedom and prosperity, a united and peaceful country. He did not know that he begrudged those few their remaining years of life in the country they had saved. And we know that he was a stranger to that love of country which the soldier feels. Such as he are well described by the poet:

"High though his titles, proud his name
Boundless his wrath as wish can claim;
Despite those titles, power and pelf,
The wretch, concentred all in self,
Living shall forfeit fair renown,
And doubly dying, shall go down
To the vile dust from whence he sprung,
Unwept, unhonored and unsung."

The lessons of to-day are the lessons of patriotism; not merely casting flowers on the sods that cover the graves of the dead. We are taught, while we honor the memory of the dead to do justice by the living. We should let our lives blossom with the fragrance of deeds done constantly in the fear of God to the betterment of our free institutions. We should strive that each of us shall in his private individual life do his part to make our nation a truthful honorable and righteous people. And in our public duties weigh every question in the scale of patriotism, whether it be a question of tariff or currency, morals or education, monopoly or enterprise. Test everything by the grand principle laid down in the Declaration of Indepence, "All men are created equal." Antagonism to that principle brought on rebellion. Devotion to it crushed rebellion. Let our progress continue in that line if we would preserve to the world American institutions and shed the light of liberty throughout the earth and to all the inhabitants thereof.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced itincurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

PROHIBITIONISTS IN CONVENTION.

The College Clubs Meet in Y. M. C. A. Hall at Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, June 7.—Yesterday afternoon Chairman William D. Ernest called the convention of College Prohibition Clubs to order in Y. M. C. A. Hall. There was a fair sprinkling of delegates, and considerable interest was taken in the work of the convention. These officers were elected: President, W. D. Earnest Gettysburg College; secretary, J. N. Bailey, Wyoming Seminary; vice president, H. T. Coalstock, Bucknell University; treasurer, M. S. Messler, Dickinson College.

The constitution was gone over carefully and modified slightly in a few particulars. Following this the delegates indulged in a general discussion of the work. A meeting of the executive board for organization followed. Chairman Patton, of the prohibition committee, was present.

There was a large crowd present at the proceedings in the courthouse last evening, at which several interesting addresses were delivered.

THE PENNSYLVANIA INVENTORS.

A List of Patents Issued to Them in the Month of May.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The following patents have been issued to Pennsylvania inventers:

L. C. Wetzel, Bellefonte, die-plate; C. O. Myers, Boiling Springs, car coupling; G. H. Bartlett, Bethlehem, tool-holding box; G. H. Bartlett, Bethlehem, noiseless attachment for school slates; J. H. Bossler, Myerstown, electric welding apparatus; W. Burnley, North East, galvanic battery; C. Cronin, Kingston, fuel; W. E. Delbert, Shamokin, knob attachment; A. J. Delp, Bangor, paper file; R. J. Ewig, Morton, pattern file; J. C. Fields, Meadville, puzzle; R. Garrett, Freedom, brick-kiln; J. H. Gibson, Bruin, harness; J. Graham, Wilmerding, air-brake coupling; W. Hilton, DuBois, washing machine; T. James, Braddock, railway; J. Johnson, Chester, harness hook for looms; S. McClure, Searon, stock indicator for blast furnaces; W. A. Minteer, Peachville, hydrocarbon burner; J. A. Potter, Munhall, steel shaping apparatus; F. Ryman, Avalon, power hammer; J. B. Spotz, Straustown, sausage stuffer; W. C. Woods, Fay, nut lock.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—At the close of the cabinet meeting yesterday President Cleveland among other things said:

"I think that between now and the meeting of congress much depends upon the action of those engaged in financial operations and business enterprises in different parts of the country. Our vast national resources and credit are abundantly sufficient to justify them in the utmost faith and confidence.

"If instead of being frightened they are conservative, and if instead of gloomily anticipating immediate disaster they contribute their share of hope and steadiness they will perform a patriotic duty and at the same time protect their own interest. The things just now needed are coolness and calmness in financial circles and study and reflection among our people."

A NON-UNION MAN MURDERED.

Joseph Littig Mysteriously Slain Near Natick, Mass.

WELLESLEY, June 5.—The dead body of Joseph Littig, aged 38, was found lying directly across the boundary line between Wellesley and Natick covered with blood from wounds in the head. The appearance of the wounds indicated that they had been inflicted with an ax or heavy club.

Littig came to South Natick about seven years ago during a strike in a local shop and was one of the few original "scabs" left. Two others have met violent deaths. The Germans believe that Littig was done away with by the same people who disposed of Kriese and Rohlig, the other non-union men who were killed.

Before coming to this country Littig was a government assessor in Germany, but was discharged on account of drunken habits. He was of a quarrelsome disposition and a heavy drinker. He went fishing with two young men named Schuman and later went to the home of Fritz Buchman. Buchman states that Littig was sober when he started home and that he was to come again Saturday night to go up to Natick and buy some clothes. Before Littig had gone fifty yards from the house he was stricken down.

Russia Buying German Wheat.

ODESSA, June 7.—A Libau milling firm has ordered 800 poods of wheat from German exporters at Konigsburg, in consequence of the bad export arrangements with the southern wheat districts. The firm calculates that it can save one and a half copeeks per pood by buying German wheat for consumption in the Baltic provinces.

Indictments Against Paine Quashed.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 7.—In the superior court District Attorney Knowlton filed an entry quashing the indictments against Walter Paine, third, for embezzlement while agent for one of the Fall River mills. Mr. Paine is 70 years old, and up to within a few weeks ago had been an exile in Canada since 1878.

FRIDAY, JUNE 9, 1893.

Governor Pattison has signed the bill making election days half holidays. This is perhaps the most sensible holiday that has ever been created, for it gives every workingman a chance to get his vote in the ballot box.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, June, 6 1893.

President Cleveland enjoyed his fishing trip immensely and returned to the hard work which still lies before him in tip-top condition. He presided over a special cabinet meeting today, which was called to consider ways and means for replenishing the gold reserve fund, which has been encroached on to a greater extent than ever before, in order to meet the demand for gold for export. No danger is apprehended for the present, and it was to discuss plans for the future that the cabinet meeting was held.

It is claimed by some, but not by Treasury officials, that under the act of March 17, 1862, which good lawyers who have made a careful examination say has never been repealed, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to issue legal tender notes for the purchase of gold "at such rates and upon such terms as he may deem most advantageous to the public interests." Secretary Carlisle thinks he would have no difficulty in getting all the gold needed in exchange for legal tender notes if it were legal to issue them; but no final decision in the matter is likely to be made until the gold reserve in the Treasury shall have been reduced to what Secretary Carlisle considers a dangerously low amount, and that may never occur.

Having sent a trustworthy agent to Hawaii to learn the sentiment of the Hawaiians, President Cleveland now proposes to ascertain the sentiment of our own people towards Hawaii before fully making up his own mind, by making public all of the reports made by Commissioner and Minister Blount. These reports will be published as soon as they are completed, which will probably be in a few weeks.

The one question that is every where discussed is that of pensions, which seems to grow in importance. As might be expected there is any quantity of fool talk on the subject, and it is the exception to find a republican who will calmly discuss the matter; they seem to think that the argument is entirely closed when they charge the administration with being antagonistic to the Union veterans. A striking exception is General H. V. Boynton, whose radical republicanism is widely known, and who earned his title by bravery on the field of battle. He handles the pension question without gloves, and among other striking truths says: "While in its essence, the pension question is nonpartisan, it is such an easy one to conjure with against the democrats that the moment any one of this party undertakes to correct the abuses which every fair man sees and admits, a general hue and cry is raised at once that the democrats are at last wreaking their spite and their vengeance on the old soldiers. No one stops to think that a very large proportion of these old soldiers who went to war in 1861, when the question of pensions was not in the remotest thought of any of them, were democrats. Even democrats forget to make answer that a great company of the leading captains of the Union hosts—Grant, Sherman, Buell, Rosecrans, Thomas, McClellan, Logan, Butler, Franklin, Sickles, Slocum—an unending column of such men and their followers—were democrats. The reputation and honor of the G. A. R. are not at stake in this matter. By the action of its highest officers it has been committed to the remarkable proposition that grand army posts shall not openly discuss and uphold pension reform. It is idle to make answer to this charge by pleading technicalities. The G. A. R. now owes it to itself to support a searching examination of the pension rolls. And when the country is satisfied that the roll is a worthy one, and not until then, will the feeling pass away that pension expenditure is in considerable part an unjust burden.

Comptroller of currency Eckels is determined that no national bank director shall plead ignorance of the law as an excuse for having neglected his duty. He has had a circular prepared, a copy of which will be forwarded to each director of every national bank, containing the laws defining the duties and obligations of bank directors, and penalties prescribed for neglect of duty. He says he wishes to impress upon the minds of bank directors that they are liable under the law for the fulfillment of their duty to stock holders and depositors.

According to reports received at the Treasury the Chinese are making use of the "underground railroad" to come from Canada to the United States, in considerable numbers. Several Vermonters have been arrested for running one of these lines.

Those near to President Cleveland and his cabinet say that they are now confident that Congress will repeal the Sherman Silver law very soon after it meets. The doubt has been as to the Senate, but it is now claimed that it has been removed by assurances from Senators.

THE LEGISLATURE.

LAWS PASSED DURING THE SESSION JUST CLOSED.

The Harrisburg Patriot says:

The session of the legislature just closed was somewhat barren of especially important results. While a large number of bills were introduced and many passed finally, neither those which received the legislative sanction nor those which fell were of especially general interest. The amended Baker ballot law works some important changes, but was not changed to the radical extent its supporters desired. It and the bills fixing polling places within the territorial limits of the election districts and forbidding political committees paying for naturalization papers, requiring electors to vote where domiciled and making election days legal half-holidays are the principal measures of a political character. The labor legislation was practically included in the amended factory inspection, compulsory arbitration and anti-Pinkerton bills, and the revised bituminous mine ventilation law. The first Saturday in September was made Labor day.

There was a great deal of school legislation and perhaps the most important bill of the session was the Farr free text book bill, with its accompanying appropriation of $500,000 annually for the purchase of books. Others worthy of note are those regulating the salaries of county superintendents, prohibiting them from engaging in teaching except gratuitously; prohibiting members of boards of school control from holding salaried positions under the boards, giving graduates of chartered colleges the same right to teachers' permanent certificates enjoyed by normal school graduates, and authorizing cities and boroughs not divided into wards for school purposes to maintain high schools. The salary of the state superintendent was also increased from $2,500 to $4,000. The compulsory education proposition was disapproved by the governor and his objections sustained on the closing night of the session.

The re-equipment of the National Guard was provided for and a reorganization bill making some important changes was passed. A naval militia was also established. An industrial home for soldiers' orphans was created, with an appropriation for its erection, and the law governing the soldiers' and sailors' home at Erie was amended by extending the right of admission to soldiers of other states who have lived five years in Pennsylvania. Fraternal societies were defined and regulated and a separate bill was passed in relation to the benefits paid them.

The main bills affecting the agricultural interests were those creating the office of dairy and food commissioner and that prohibiting the use of oleomargarine in institutions receiving state aid. The appropriation for the salary and expenses of the dairy and food commissioner was defeated, consequently the law is practically nugatory until the next session. One of the things in which the farmers were really interested was the additional appropriation of another million dollars to the state board of agriculture. This was lost on the last night of the session and lost by the filibustering by representatives of the rural counties, who were apparently willing to defeat measures in which their own constituents were interested in order to kill those which they thought would benefit people to whom they were opposed.

Among the other leading measures passed, and which like those enumerated above have received the governor's approval, were the following: Establishing state boards of medical examiners, repealing the law permitting physicians to be pharmacists without passing prescribed examination; authorizing the governor to commission women as notaries; defining second degree murder; punishing frauds by the keepers of stallions; providing for the safety of employees in new buildings; creating borough boards of health; authorizing the formation of co-operative banking associations appropriating $500,000 for a state library building, and $125,000 for remodeling the present capitol; punishing dairy adulterations; creating a forestry commission, regulating mileage and expenses of presidential electors; prohibiting minors under fourteen years running elevators; general dog-tax law; compiling the corporation laws of the state; providing for a deficiency in the appropriation of last year for the care of the indigent insane; increasing the salaries of the superintendent of public instruction, auditor general, deputy attorney general, and secretary of internal affairs; repealing the dog tax in West Marlborough and Tredyffen townships, Chester county; repealing the road tax in Pennsburg township, Chester county; abolishing the Philadelphia public buildings commission; permitting a plaintiff to take judgment for the amount admitted to be due in affidavits of defense; repealing the fence law in Armstrong county; repealing that part of the law in relation to sheriff's sales in Luzerne county, which requires publication of the nature of sale in a newspaper at the county-seat; requiring the public records to be kept in the English language; appropriation for the purchase of medals of honor; making the secretary of the state board of agriculture a member ex officio of board of trustees of Pennsylvania State college; providing for the appointment of trustees, for the Home for the Training of the Speech of Deaf Children.

The local prohibitory laws for the boroughs of Mt. Pleasant, Westmoreland county and Nerona, Allegheny county, were repealed and the former has been signed by the governor. He has also approved the Saturday half-holiday bill. The governor has also signed 101 of the appropriations to charitable institutions, which had the approval of the state board of charities.

These appropriations have also received executive sanction. For continuance of education of destitute orphans of deceased soldiers, sailors and and marines; salaries of officers and employes of Morganza reformed school and for permanent improvements; medical and surgical department, Western Pennsylvania hospital, Pittsburg; emergency fund of $50,000 for state board of health, to use in case of epidemics; state chronic asylum, for equipping of state institutions and transferring patients thereto: for repair of stone bridge over Youghiogheny river at Summerfield; to assist in erection of hospital at West Chester; to reimburse commissioners for promotion of uniformity of legislation in the United States; to carry out provisions of act relative to care and treatment of indigent insane; appropriation for expenses of committee on centennial affairs in examining the accounts of the World's fair commission.

Among the bills remaining in the hands of the governor are the amended Baker ballot law; the state quarantine act; permitting the consolidation of traction lines; abolishing city treasurer's fees; the Philadelphia wharf bill; authorizing courts to appoint persons to inspect school houses where directors have failed to provide adequate accommodations and providing a penalty for neglect on the part of school boards; authorizing the appointment of deputy coroners; permitting mechanics, journeymen and laborers to file liens for wages against buildings on which they have worked, and the Hewitt pure food bill.

Hood's Did It

Cured a Train of Troubles

Catarrh of the Stomach, Rheumatism, Nervousness, Tired Feeling, Etc.

"I do feel that I owe a letter for publication, for Hood's Sarsaparilla has been of so great help to me. I was seriously troubled with catarrh of the stomach and rheumatism. I also had that tired feeling; was very nervous, so that sometimes I could not let the children play where I could hear them. I also had spells of being light headed, and could not see where to go. Could not walk across my room without help, nor do any washing or ironing. For five weeks I was which my physicians said was chronic. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it has done me so much good that I earnestly recommend it to my friends. It has given me strength so that I can do my own washing and ironing and my housework. My nerves also feel better and stronger. I have a good appetite, and the pain and trouble in my stomach have not annoyed me since I took the first bottle. My friends all tell me I look better, and I tell them Hood's did it. I have been in poor health for 5 or 6 years, and have had the rheumatism, more or less, for 3 years. It is all gone now, and that awful tired feeling and a severe cough never trouble me." The New Ballot Bill.

The reconstructed Baker ballot law as agreed upon by the house and senate conferees and sent to the governor, makes the following changes in the present law:

The ballot is decreased to one-half its present size. Only one set of ballots and sample ballots is necessary. Reduces the percentage for party nominations from three to two. Increases the time allowed for printing the ballots. Provides that the printing of the ballots for Spring elections shall be done under the supervision of the county commissioners. Certificates of nominations for members of the house of representatives shall be filed with the county commissioners instead of the secretary of the commonwealth. Provides that one mark in a circle at the top of a column of candidates shall be a vote for every one in that column. Where the circle is not marked a mark for every candidate voted for is required. A screen or door must be placed on the front of each booth, thereby better securing privacy. Provides for greater thickness of paper for ballots and the corner of the ballot folded over shall be printed black so that number cannot be seen through the paper. In case a voter votes for more persons than he is entitled to the ballot shall not be entirely thrown out, but so much of the ballot as is properly marked shall be counted.

The disability clause of the act of 1891 is unchanged, but a penal clause is provided for any one who falsely represents his disability.

Pennsylvania People Benefitted.

MRS. CARRIE BOUTON GAINED IN FLESH 68 LBS. TO 121 1-2 LBS. BY THE USE OF A SIMPLE REMEDY.

MEN AND WOMEN INTERESTED.

"It is astonishing," said one of our physicians the other evening, "how many of the ordinary diseases people suffer from come from the one cause—excess of uric acid in the blood. To discover a medicine that would dissolve this acid has puzzled thousands of the best men of the medical profession, until Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., produced what is known the world over as Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. The great value we place in Favorite Remedy comes from the fact that it is the only medicine that will effectually dissolve this acid thus curing rheumatism, dyspepsia, kidney, liver and urinary troubles and the sicknesses women suffer from. These and many more troubles all come from the one cause, as I said before, this death dealing uric acid."

Perhaps there has been no one person in Wyoming Co., Pa., that has suffered more than Mrs. Carrie Bouton, formerly of Schottville, but now of Harvey's Lake, Luzerne Co. Mrs. Bouton, in relating her restoration to health, said: "From a growing girl I suffered from female trouble or weakness peculiar to my sex. Several physicians prescribed for me but I found no relief. I was reduced in flesh down to 68 pounds. By accident I heard of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and determined to try it, and to my great joy I began to realize that I had found a medicine that was doing me good. I think I had used five bottles when I found that I weighed 121½ pounds and was better in health than I ever was before.

Inquiry among Mrs. Bouton's neighbors shows that she states nothing but the facts in regard to her case. Many other instances of the kind are widely talked of in Scottsville, Tunkhannock, Wilkesbarre and other places where Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has effected many cures after physicians had given up hope.

"But," says one of our prominent druggists, "Favorite Remedy is equally efficacious in other diseases, as talks with people I have sold Favorite Remedy to affirm. To my knowledge right in our town Favorite Remedy has cured people suffering from rheumatism, dyspepsia, kidney, liver and urinary troubles."

Since the publication in one of the New York medical journals of the case of Mr. E. P. Tayer, of East Nassau, N. Y., Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has been increasing in sale. Mr. Tayer had suffered for fifteen years with inflammatory rheumatism. His case was practically abandoned by his physicians. Favorite Remedy was brought to his notice and in less than three months after its use he was a well man.

In commenting on this case Dr. W. H. Morse, of New York City, says: The great good in Favorite Remedy lies in its power to dissolve this deadly uric acid. In cases of dyspepsia, eczema, scrofula or any urinary diseases I have never known it to fail, when taken according to directions. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is not only used by physicians now but can be found on sale by every medicine dealer.—Wilkes-Barre (Pa.) Times.

It is a truth in medicine that the smallest dose that performs a cure is the best. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the smallest pills, will perform the cure, and are the best. W. S. Rishton, druggist. 10-14-1y.

Interesting Items From Various Points in the County, Reported by Our Staff of Correspondents

BERWICK.

Crisman Bros. two enterprising young men are running one of the best flouring establishments in the state, and turning out by the roller process the finest of flour. They are indispensable in our community in throwing upon the market an excellent quality of flour; have erected a new engine house and are now running an excellent engine, costing $1500.

Harry Grozier has entered into a new enterprise—that of broom making—is turning out splendid specimens of brooms. They are honest work, and they come from a man of Berwick. We never have had corn brooms thrown on our market superior to them to say the least. Mr. Grozier is an old resident of town, and well known as teacher and leader of cornet music.

M. S. Freas has been a long while identified with Thos. Lauer's tonsorial rooms, and has become a necessity there; is popular with our people.

G. B. W. Hosler, now under full headway, is turning out some elegant buggies, carriages, and heavy wagons; is fast establishing himself in his line of business.

Lu Frantz is a popular young man, commands a ready sale for all the meat he peddles from day to day.

Came very near having a scorch out in Frantz's tailor shop, Main St., on Wednesday night of last week. A lamp commenced to burn up some fine garments, freshly made, to the amount of about $150. The fire was promptly extinguished and no further damage.

Miss Clara Smith and Miss Jessie Straw have opened a restaurant on Main street, opposite the Opera House. These are enterprising young ladies, and deserving of liberal patronage. An institution of this sort is a novelty with us.

M. W. Jackson, wife and daughter have returned from the World's Fair after a protracted visit. They have reported a very pleasant visit and plenty to be seen.

Our Berwick Council should pass ordinance that there should be no frame buildings erected between Isaiah Bower's store and far down as Presbyterian church on Front and Second Sts., and as far as our cemetery, and build with brick or stone, or some hard ware that does not furnish kindling wood to burn out peoples' homes and set the town on fire. The town has grown into this importance to demand this.

G. H. Welliver has become a citizen of town, and has entered into the Veterinary Surgeon business; has been here but a short time but has picked up a fine trade in his line; is a graduate of Ontario Veterinary College; has performed some handsome cures in horse flesh. We have no doubt the Professor will meet with abundant success with us.

We are glad to note that Mrs. Dr. McCrea, after a long seige of "grippe" and pneumonia is convalescent. Her numerous friends wish her full and rapid recovery.

The Baccalaurate sermon by Rev. Stephenson, pertaining to our High School on last Sabbath evening in the M. E. Church was fine. The church was densely crowded.

FORKS.

The Asbury festival was a grand success, clearing about $50.

Miss Annie and Addie McGuire of Wilkes-Barre, visited Jonestown friends last week.

Festival at Jonestown tomorrow night.

W. B. Pennington visited friends in Nescopeck last Sunday.

Wm. Gilbert and Rush Robbins of Nescopeck visited their parents here last Sunday.

Alva Bendig lost a valuable horse at the Asbury festival last Saturday night.

The material for the foot bridge across Fishing Creek, near the B. & S. station is being delivered.

We are informed on reliable authority that the invitations sent out by the P. O. S. of A. at Jonestown for a celebration and picnic on July 4th are being pretty generally accepted.

The bass season having opened, fisherman are trying their luck, which seems to be poor.

Messrs. H. Bower of Berwick and Hiram Bower of Fowlerville, were at Forks on a fishing expedition last week.

Children's day will be appropriately celebrated at Jonestown and Asbury, on Sunday, June 24th.

The P. O. S. of A. boys at Jonestown have just received a fine new flag.

M. E. Edwards and wife of Bloomsburg, spent a couple of days last week calling on friends in this section.

CENTRAL.

It is now getting very pleasant and every one that stops in Central remarks about the change it makes in them, even when they stop once over night. This is the best place to rest a week or ten days that could be found, and by the way our Hotel under its present management is now fitted up with nice and airy rooms and first class accommodations throughout. Mr. Perry having had a number of years experience in the Hotel business, will give all who stop with him his personal attention.

Jamison City is booming; the tannery, saw mill, and hub factory are running on full time and to their fullest capacity. Understand the factory operated by W. D. Davidge, will locate elsewhere before the winter sets in. This institution has worked the hub and veneering business here continously every since this country opened up about five years, and have shipped and made hubs enough for, perhaps fifty thousand wagons, besides two and three car loads of veneering and beer chips every month, employing from twenty five to fifty men. This firm is one of the kind that will be missed.

Messrs. Frank and Wallace Hess, with about a dozen of their friends and better halves visited the Central Sunday, the 4th inst and were treated to a fine trout dinner.

Constable M. F. Shoemaker took to Bloom, Bert Coleman from Jamison who is of unsound mind.

Mr. I. B. Gibbons is contracting for a Mr. Horocy of Fairmount Springs.

J. B. Hess is not gaining in healt h very fast. He has been housed up all winter.

Aaron Vansickle is on the sick list.

William Lamon visited his son, J. F. Lamon; could not stay long enough to take a trout fish.

We also saw William Shaffer, formally of Centre township. He took a few trout home.

S. Yorks caught perhaps the largest trout, 1 lb. 9 oz. J. W. Perry the longest, fourteen inches.

W. Brodt the largest number, probably three thousand.

EAST BENTON.

The fruit prospect is very good. The crops have a promising appearance.

Candidates would fare quite as well if they made no canvass at all. But one canvassing seems to make it necessary for all.

Just now the under current in the pursuit of public patronage by federal appointment runs so deep that the casual observer does not discover any ripple at all in the treacherous political waters. But mark you, many will be stranded on the rocks of treacherous deception, way down at the bottom of political villainy.

The old fashioned Fourth of July celebrations seem to lose their significance, or spirit at least, by the observance of other days of great national and historic events.

The corn season has progressed thusly—some corn is being cultivated, some is not up yet and still some to be planted yet.

The crows are committing depredations on many corn fields. The thieving birds are cunning and impudent. We cannot see what benefit they are to the farming community. Still three or four copies of the COLUMBIAN spread per acre over corn fields will put the crows against trespass and they will take the hint and quit the field, as they are not slow to read advertisements.

Children's Day will be observed at St. James in two weeks from next Saturday night and at Hamiline in two weeks from next Sunday night. These services are usually very interesting as the children are always arrayed, adorned and decorated for the occasion. We hope that these occasions will be well attended and liberally rewarded.

ORANGEVILLE.

Mrs. Otis Herring has been quite sick for several days. At last accounts there was no improvement.

Prof. Henry R. Russell of Greenwood Seminary was among the passengers on the morning W. & W. train on Saturday. He was on his way to Bloomsburg. It is seldom that one meets with a more intelligent, courteous or sociable gentleman.

Messrs. J. B. DeLong and D. K. Sloan have both added to the appearance of their residences by repainting and other improvements

Squire Harman and Mr. W. R. Miller, a student at the academy, were out fishing on Saturday. As to the catch it is only necessary to say that we have a much higher regard for the former as a druggist and as a gentleman than as a fisherman, while if the latter is not more successful in his studies than he was in landing "big ones" on this occasion, he is wasting time.

On account of a sand bar having formed at the head of the old race, its waters were getting very low—so much so that it was feared that its stangnant waters might breed an epidemic. Accordingly a number of public spirited citizens turned out on Saturday afternoon and removed the obstructing bar. Its waters now flow full and free as ever.

Mr. W. C. Marr, the saddler, seems to be enjoying a good patronage. He is constantly kept busy.

A regular freight has again been put on the W. & W., and the mixed train feature discontinued. Passengers can now take a trip over the road without providing a week's provisions before starting.

Nothing could look more inviting than the grove on he academy grounds this warm weather.

M. L. Kline, formerly a resident of this town, now of Bloomsburg, circulated among his friends here on Sunday. Every one enjoyed his visit.

Now your blood should be purified. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best spring medicine and blood purifier.

Will be the principal topic of conversation in America, during the next six months.

Many of our citizens will visit the Exposition and many will remain at home but no matter whether you go or stay, you will need new clothing just the same. The cool weather is over and gone and summer with its hot sun is here. You will be mighty uncomfortable unless you consent to lay aside your heavy garments—besides they are worn and don't look genteel, and then again

over and above and beyond all this Dame Fashion sits on her imperial throne dictating what you must wear. Now to meet these emergencies is where our firm comes to the front. We are fully equipped and prepared to meet your Clothing Wants. No matter what your taste or desire may be. Be you Merchant or salesman, Manufacturer, traveler, tourist, or stay at home, be you rich or poor, large or small, short or tall, man or boy, we have clothing to fit both your body and your pocket-book. Its good clothing, too—the best that money can buy. You know, perhaps, that the best capital a House can have is a good name, got by selling good Goods. Well, you may pull and haul the seams, turn our clothing inside out, put a microscope to the quality and take out a search list for prices. We know you will find no better goods, no lower prices,—we'd be nearer right likely, if we said—not as low prices.. That's the kernel of it. The best value for the money that we ever offered. No doubt of it. That's the way we are building our reputation.

Then

its up to the top in tailoring skill. It is made to fit well and look well. Our wool suits are positively all wool—not part cotton—but they are every fibre sheep's wool, and fine at that. They are warm enough for mountain or seashore, for morning or evening wear; and light enough for sunshiny ease, in brief they are up to the very highest notch of goodness, and goodness knows they are low enough for anybody and everybody in this town and vicinity to get suited.

Now, dear reader we want you to come in and look over the stock, handle it; see the prices, try it on, stand before the mirror or bring a friend with you to help select; and our word for it, you will own one of these beautiful suits before you leave the store.

FROM ALL AROUND THE STATE.

News Gathered from all Sections of the Commonwealth.

ALTOONA, June 7.—In the Blair county democratic convention, which met here yesterday, A. V. Divelly, of Altoona, and Hon. A. S. Landis, of Hollidaysburg, were placed in nomination for president judge. A dispute arose over a decision given by the committee on credentials, whereupon the Divelly delegation retired from the convention.

The Landis delegation then unanimously nominated their candidate. More disputes arose than at any other similar meeting ever given in the county. Several of the Divelly men who remained in the room got up and stated that they would not sanction the Landis nomination. For more than an hour it was impossible for Chairman Thomas McKiernan to keep order in the house.

MEDIA, June 5.—A trolley car on the Media and Chester line ran into a lot of cattle instantly killing two cows and a bull. The cattle were not seen by the motorman until a moment before they were struck. They were walking up the track in a line, with their heads toward the approaching car. The car was thrown off the track and ditched. There were only five passengers aboard, and none of them were hurt. The cattle killed belonged to Rufus Ingram, a neighboring farmer, and had broken out of a field near where the accident occurred.

LANCASTER, June 5.—Dr. S. E. Weber, who has been investigating the flea or louse plague in the northern part of the county, was summoned to Washington for a conference with Secretary of Agriculture Morton and Professor Riley, of the Entomological bureau.

There is no doubt that the plague is spreading in the country and is growing in seriousness. At Petersburg the insects have been discovered in a tobacco warehouse, and a number of people have been deprived of work in consequence. Dr. Weber has been advised of their presence in two more houses in East Earl.

READING, June 6.—In the equity proceedings brought by Mrs. Angeline Fox, widow of Adam Fox, against the children of her late husband by a former marriage, a decision has just been rendered in favor of Mrs. Fox, awarding her property of the value of $5,000. The decedent devised his property to his children, but his widow claimed that certain real estate did not belong to her husband, but was her separate property acquired by her personal earnings.

HARRISBURG, June 6.—The following were chartered yesterday: Avandale Marble Company, of Chester county; capital, $250,000; to operate in London Grove township. Among the incorporators are William Vollmer, S. Croft Register and Phillip S. Vollmer, Philadelphia. Coplay Knitting Company, of Lehigh county; capital, $5,000. St. Mary's Creamery Company, of Elk county; capital $5,000. Citizens Electric Light Company, of Wayne, Delaware county; capital, $5,000.

READING, June 5.—Work upon the proposed Reading, Lancaster and Baltimore railroad having been abandoned, the portions of the roadway already graded having been plowed under and planted with corn, the last chapter in this enterprise is about being completed in the seizure and sale of the contractor's plant. The receivers of the Reading Railroad Company will sell on the 21st inst., to secure freight charges, the carts, wagons and tools consigned to W. E. Warren, the contractor.

LEWISBURG, June 7.—At the Union county democratic convention resolutions indorsing the national and state administrations were passed, and Governor Pattison was indorsed for the presidency in 1896. James Glace was nominated for commissioner and Adam Krug for auditor. After a lively time the nominations for treasurer and register and recorder were referred to the standing committee for settlement.

READING, June 6.—Everything is in readiness for completing the South Mountain railroad from the Schuylkill to the Susquehanna river, through the counties of Berks, Lebanon and Dauphin. Work will be commenced this week on the section between this city and Bernville. The greater part of the roadbed has been completed from Bernville to Grantville, Dauphin county.

EASTON, June 6.—While John Cole, aged about 30, and George Baltzi, aged 45, were breaking up stone in the Lizzie Clay and Pulp Company's quarry yesterday, a mile north of Phillipsburg, N. J., a slide occurred and they were buried under 100 tons of rock. The bodies were recovered a few hours later. Both were terribly mangled. Baltzi leaves a wife and five children.

HAZLETON, June 7.—An explosion of gas occurred in No. 2 Stockton colliery, operated by Linderman & Skeer, yesterday, by which Martin Kosack, Michael Lenako, George Palcko and John Morenzie were horribly burned. The explosion was caused by a naked lamp coming in contact with a body of gas which had collected in a heading. The injured men were taken to the hospital.

READING, June 6.—The annual report of State Adjutant Hammer, of the Sons of Veterans, has just been issued from the headquarters in this city. It shows over 6,000 members in the state, twenty-four new camps having been instituted during the past year. The new members mustered numbered 2,701, while there was a loss of 332 members.

HARRISBURG, June 7.—Governor Pattison yesterday attached his signature to the general appropriation bill, which appropriates about $15,500,000 for the ordinary expenses of the executive, judicial and legislative departments of the commonwealth, interest on the public debt and for the support of the public schools for the next two fiscal years beginning June 1.

POTTSVILLE, June 6.—The Reading Company inaugurated a new policy in its coal traffic and sent out no trains on Sunday. Until the coal trade warrants it no coal trains will be moved hereafter on that day. This is done to give train hands rest and at the same time will very materially cut down expenses.

LANCASTER, June 6.—The horribly mutilated remains of James McCarty, of Fall River, Mass., were found along the Pennsylvania railroad, near Columbia. It is supposed he tried to board a freight and fell under the cars.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, June 5.—The rag room of the D. M. Bare Company, at Roaring Spring, this county, took fire from spontaneous combustion and was entirely destroyed. The main buildings of the mill were saved by energetic work of the fire brigade.

POTTSVILLE, June 3.—Winfield W. Scott has made an assignment. Scott ran stores at Minersville, Glen Carbon and William Penn, in this county, and also near Wilkes-Barre. He is also engaged in contracting. No statement filed.

SHAMOKIN, June 5.—D. H. Rothermel, of Treverton, ex-treasurer of Zerby township, has been found to be $800 short in his accounts by the auditors.

Lippincott's Magazine for June.

The complete novel in the June number of Lippincott's is "The Translation of a Savage," by Gilbert Parker, author of "The Chief Factor," "Pierre and his People," "Mrs. Falchion," etc. It has an unusual subject, and tells how an Englishman of family and wealth married an Indian girl of Hudson's Bay and took her home, with results naturally mixed, but better than might have been expected.

The fourth in the series of Lippincott's Notable Stories—"The Philosophers," by Geraldine Bonner—deals with an extraordinary wedding, in which the men concerned were philosophers indeed. It is illustrated. "Ambition," a play in one act, by Johanna Staats, has a double love-story.

The Athletic Series is continued in an illustrated article on "Amateur Rowing," by John F. Huneker. In the Journalist Series, Theodore Stanton descants on "The Foreign Correspondent."

John Burroughs gives "A Glance into Walt Whitman," and Frank A. Burr tells "How Men Write," with portraits of Captain King, J. G. Blaine, Julian Hawthorne, Eugene Field, Joel Chandler Harris, J. W. Riley, Bill Nye, and Walt Whitman.

W. S. Walsh supplies anecdotes illustrating the methods, now more honored in breach than in the observance, of "The Practical Jester." Alfred Stoddart, in "An Actor's Art," contributes a brief study of Edward S. Willard. "A Colonial Vista," by F. H. W., is a notice of Miss Wharton's "Through Colonial Doorways." "When Doctors Differ," by F. M. B., is a comment on a recent deliverance of Mr. F. Marion Crawford.

M. Crofton, in "Men of the Day," offers pen-pictures of Ambassador Bayard, Millionaire Mackay, Composer Verdi, and Editor Burnand.

The poetry of the number is unusually full, containing lyrics by Graham R. Tomson, the late Phillip Bourke Marston, Lorimer Stoddard, Bliss Carman, and Harrison S. Morris, besides quatrains by Frank Dempster Sherman, Clinton Scollard, and Joel Benton.

"Is this hot enough for you?" is a silly question; but if you meet a man who complains of suffering from the heat, ten to one you will find, on inquiry, that he does not use Ayer's Sarsaparilla to tone up his system and free his blood from irritating humors.

The statistics of crime throughout the country show a marked increase in the number of murders during recent years—from 2,335 in 1887 to 5,906 in 1891—while for several years prior to 1887 the number fell short of 2,000.

After a thorough test of TWO YEARS, the JOINTED PLATFORM has proven a wonderful Success.

NOSES OUT OF JOINT.

Our competitors do not like this Folding Platform. We never thought they would. Who could expect them to go into ecstasies over a valuable invention upon which we own and control exclusive and far-reaching patents? Same old case of sour grapes. Barely looking on them has set their teeth on edge, and it is amusing to hear them chatter. Every intelligent farmer knows that the true test of an invention is the character of the work it does. The thorough tests made prove the Deering Jointed Platform to be a marvelous success. Farmers who have used it are charmed with it. It is a great boon to farmers, and it has come to stay. It simply adds another mechanical triumph to the long list of labor-saving devices patented and given to the world by William Deering & Co.

CARRIAGES DRAWN BY KITES.

Fahrenheit's Voyage in a Basket Made at a Mile in 2.50.

About forty years ago a mania set in among aeronauts, who believed that carriages drawn by kites would supersede railways to a considerable extent. Among those who followed this fascinating study, says Answers, was Dr. Pocock, an uncle of W. G. Grace, the champion cricketer of England.

Dr. Pocock made many journeys from Bristol to London in a little carriage drawn by a couple of large kites flying a quarter of a mile or so in the air, and he often attained a speed of fully twenty miles an hour. It was thought, too, that kites would supersede sails for a ship, and, in fact, for some time scientific England went kite mad.

In order to thoroughly understand the action of these gigantic kites (some of them were as large as a ship's mainsail) a certain intrepid John Fahrenheit —no relation to the famous chemist of that name—made several voyages in a basket, an ordinary wickerwork affair, such as is used by laundresses, tied to a kite.

On one occasion the kite was started at Romford, in Essex. It was attached to a pony chaise, which was so constructed as to be easily steered by means of handles, such as those on old-fashioned tricycles. In the chaise sat two men, one a brother of the kite-traveler, the other a gentleman who spent a considerable fortune in experiments of this description.

The party waited until a suitable day came and at length they arose one morning at 4 o'clock with the pleasing intelligence that a half gale was blowing from the west. Everything had been in readiness for some time, and after a hasty breakfast, the kite was unrolled, stretched on its gigantic bamboo frame and held in the roadway by a couple of laborers.

Fahrenheit seated himsel in the basket. The three stout lines with which the kite was held and controlled were carefully examined, and, after considerable manœuvring the enormous spread of canvas was wafted upward, with its human cargo seated calmly and nonchalantly in the basket.

For a time it looked as though the kite would not ascend properly, and the lines frequently hung slack, but at 6.30 the wind had increased to such an extent that it was thought expedient to "pay out" more line, and the three travelers seated themselves in the chaise, which began to move along the main road at a brisk pace. Once in motion the speed increased, and the difficulty of steering the chaise and looking after the guide ropes was so great that it was thought expedient to bring the experiment to a hasty conclusion.

This, however, was easier said than done. As they passed a milestone they determined to time their speed, and found to their surprise that they had covered a mile in 2.50.

Three miles out of Chelmsford rain began to fall in torrents and violent tugs were felt at the guide ropes. It had been previously arranged that they should form the signal for an immediate descent, and, taking advantage of a somewhat steep incline, when the rate of progression would naturally be diminished, the brakes were applied.

Fahrenheit was observed making violent signals with his hands, and the kite was found to be falling with alarming rapidity. So great, indeed, had the speed become that it was evident that Fahrenheit's doom was sealed unless some immediate effort could be made to stop the fall.

Mr. McLennan and his two assistants thereupon promptly determined to take the only possible step which could save him. By pulling in the ropes violently the kite would slightly ascend, and so, throwing off their coats, they tugged with might and main.

In five minutes Fahrenheit was on terra firma. It appeared that the rain had thoroughly soaked the canvas and added pounds to the weight of the kite, causing it to fall. Had not prompt measures been taken, there can be but little doubt that the ponderous machine would have caused the violent death of the occupant of the basket.

Strange Excuses.

What is much needed for persons "in trouble," and especially for those caught in flagrante delicto, is a good excuse, an explanation on the spur of the moment for their each having, for example, three gold watches about them. An instance of this kind occurred only the other morning in London. A gentleman was stopped by a policeman at two a. m., and requested to explain the fact of his carrying four umbrellas. It had been a fine day, so that even one seemed unnecessary. The best account he could give of himself was that his mistress had been out at a party, and he was carrying her property home. The inefficiency of an excuse of this sort is lamentable. In no society do ladies take four umbrellas to an evening party. It would have been better for the poor wretch to have announced himself as a "Japanese nobleman of the first class, who, in daference to Western customs, was wearing four umbrellas instead of four swords." This would, at least, have staggered the policeman as being something out of his beat. In another case, three individuals are found, armed to the teeth, under the pantry-table of a gentleman's house, who have no better explanation to give of their position than "they were getting out of the rain." These excuses are pitiful and almost pathetic.

WE TELL YOU

nothing new when we state that it pays to engage in a permanent, most healthy and pleasant business, that returns a profit for every day's work. Such is the business we offer the working class. We teach them how to make money rapidly, and guarantee every one who follows our instructions faithfully the making of $300.00 a month.

Every one who takes hold now and works will surely and speedily increase their earnings; there can be no question about it; others now at work are doing it, and you, reader, can do the same. This is the best paying business that you have ever had the chance to secure. You will make a grave mistake if you fail to give it a trial at once. If you grasp the situation, and act quickly, you will directly find yourself in a most prosperous business, at which you can surely make and save large sums of money. The results of only a few hours' work will often equal a week's wages. Whether you are old or young, man or woman, it makes no difference,—do as we tell you, and success will meet you at the very start. Neither experience or capital necessary. Those who work for us are rewarded. Why not write to-day for full particulars, free? E. C. ALLEN & CO., Box No. 420, Augusta, Me.

SHE WAS BEHINDHAND.

A Fortune Teller's Old News Not Worth the Price.

The lady who entered the apartments of the fortune-teller shortly before noon had red hair and an air of reserve force that was very striking. It was evident that the business on hand was of the deepest moment to her, inasmuch as her eyes had a fixed expression and her thin lips were firmly set.

"Reveal to me," she loftily directed, "my future."

The fortune-teller darted a swift glance into the strong face before her and bent attentively over the outstretched palm, says the Detroit Tribune.

"It is very plain," she quietly observed, "you will be married twice."

The brow beneath the clustering auburn curls contracted in a frown.

"Yes," the clairvoyant continued, "there is a distinct break in the line of Hymen. You are destined to bless two men with your wifely love."

"Two?"

The red-haired lady's tone was hard and incisive, suggesting a trace of scepticism.

"Ah, yes. The first husband will die under sad circumstances, but you will be consoled and made happy in the devotion of the second."

It seemed as if the ruddy tress which had escaped from the elaborate coiffure and depended witchingly beside the shell-like ear was trembling, but it might have been the play of dancing sunlight.

"But I will make sure."

"Do so."

The red-haired lady watched with unfeigned eagerness while the fortune-teller consulted a horoscope and a pack of cards.

"As I thought. The fates have spoken. You will marry twice."

The red-haired lady breathed hard.

"All have their sorrows," gently suggested the clairvoyant.

The red-haired lady bit her finger nail.

"One dollar, please."

"Hey?"

"One dollar."

"Not by a jugful."

As the red-haired lady rose from her seat her manner had not lost a particle of its majesty.

"One dollar, indeed! Well, I guess not. Do you think I came here to pay a dollar for a lot of old information? Two husbands! The idea! Why, I myself know of more than that without anybody telling me. Yes, ma'am. You might be interested to learn that I buried my fourth husband as long as six weeks ago. Married twice! Why don't you try to tell people something they don't know already? You make me drowsy. You ought to have lived ten years ago. You're way behind the times."

The sunlight kept right along dancing, but the red-haired lady was gone like a dream that has fled.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla requires smaller doses, and is more effective, than other blood medicines.

A Permanency: A young countrywoman in Burgundy, writing to the parents of a little girl whom she has in charge, wound up her letter in this affectionate strain: "I remain, with respect, monsieur and madame, your wet nurse for life."—Le Phare du Nord.

"There is a salve for every wound." We refer to De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve, cures burns, bruises, cuts, indolent sores, as a local application in the nostrils it cures catarrh, and always cures piles. W. S. Rishton, Druggist. 10-14-1yr.

Japanese jinrikshas have gained a considerable footing in the towns of South Africa. In Cape Town, Durban, and Pietermaritzburg they are well patronized, and are crowding out the cabs and public buggies. Kaffirs furnish the motive power.

Bad complexion indicates and unhealty state of the system. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are pills that will correct this condition. They act on the liver, they act on the stomach, they act on the bowels. W. S. Rishon Druggist. 10-14-1y.

S. P. SMITH, of Towanda, Pa., whose constitution was completely broken down, is cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He writes:

"For eight years, I was, most of the time, a great sufferer from constipation, kidney trouble, and indigestion, so that my constitution seemed to be completely broken down. I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and took nearly seven bottles, with such excellent results that my stomach, bowels, and kidneys are in perfect condition, and, in all their functions, as regular as clock-work. At the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, my weight was only 129 pounds; I now can brag of 159 pounds, and was never in so good health. If you could see me before and after using, you would want me for a traveling advertisement. I believe this preparation of Sarsaparilla to be the best in the market to-day."

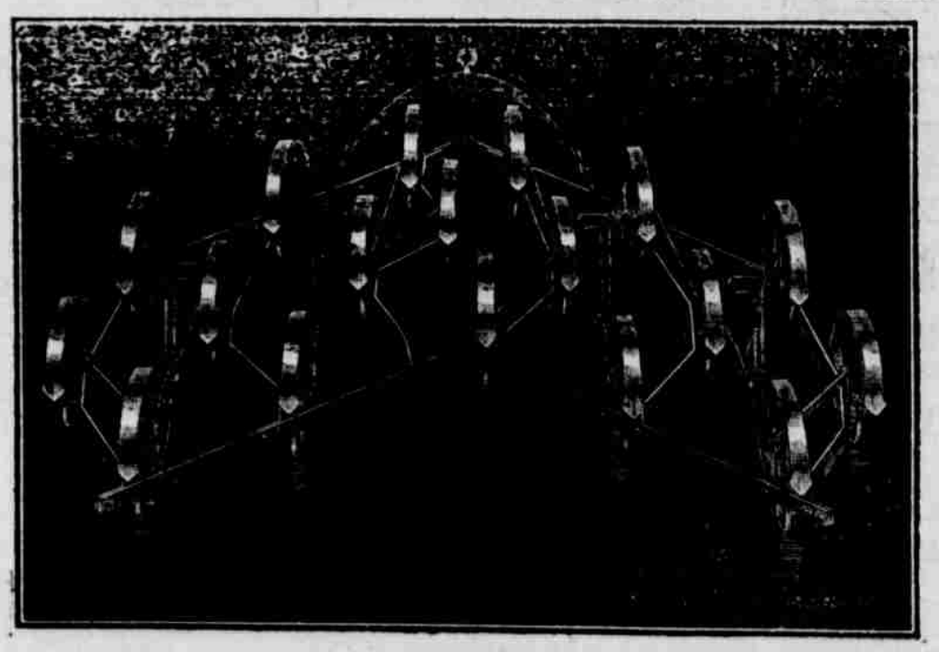
LOOK THIS WAY!



TO Farmers and the PUBLIC -in- General.

We wish to say that we are still manufacturing and dealing in Agricultural implements at Orangeville, Pa., and certainly from long experience we should know the wants of the Farmers and public in general. And, in this connection we wish to say that all machinery we manufacture or handle is equal to any on the market, and sold at lowest prices.

We make a good cast head Land Roller, which every Farmer should have. Also Plows Scotch Harrows, Cultivators, Wood Saws, Corn Shellers, and Feed Cutters, and a specialty of Horse Power Threshing Machinery. Then we handle the 'Empire" Fertilizer, Grain Drill and Hay Rake, "Hench's" Walking and Riding wheel Cultivators, "Woods" Harvesting machinery (which needs no recommendation), single and double Corn Cultivators, Engines and Saw Mills etc. Lastly we wish to show up the New Deerfield Lever Harrow the only one that has a separate adjustment for each tooth independent of the levers. The only four lever Harrow on the market whereby the two centre sections can be let down in a dead furrow, or any one or more of the four sections can be raised and the balance of the teeth kept at work, frame at all times being level. It has a self coupling hinge, no bolts or pieces to lose, with circular steel evener to equalize draft while turning corners. This Harrow is no experiment with us, and will be put out on their merits same as any other goods.

We also make and carry a large stock of Plow repairs, also an endless variety of other implement repairs. We are also prepared to do almost any kind of saw or grist mill repairing (having recently put in new Iron Lathe and boring machinery etc. We also carry a full line of dressed building lumber. We appreciate the patronage of the public in the past and covet a continuance of the same in the future and will be glad to have any one call to see us, or answer their inquiries for any thing in our line and will qnote lowest prices.

WHITE & CONNER.
